

Acknowledgement and Release

I acknowledge that the seminar series, Patents 1 and Patents 2 (hereinafter "the Seminar"), is educational in nature and that I am attending the Seminar to only to satisfy my interest in patent law. I understand that any opinion expressed in the Seminar is the personal view of the author and not to be imputed to any other person or entity.

I understand that my attendance and participation at the Seminar does not create an attorney-client relationship between myself and any author, speaker, sponsor or producer of the Seminar. I understand that if I need any assistance with any legal issue, I must separately hire an attorney. I understand that the author or speaker will not establish an attorney-client relationship with me unless I execute a separate Engagement Letter with and paying a fee retainer to the author or speaker.

I understand that any information or opinion provided in the Seminar is NOT LEGAL ADVICE, and that any such information or opinion may become or already be inapplicable or outdated. Accordingly, without the advice and counsel of a retained attorney, I rely upon any information or opinion from the Seminar AT MY OWN RISK.

I understand that any information disclosed by me during the Seminar is disclosed without the benefit of any agreement of confidentiality by any persons present during the disclosure. Accordingly, any information I disclose during my attendance or participation at the Seminar is or will become public information to which I have no proprietary rights.

In consideration of my attendance at the Seminar, I hereby release all persons and entities involved in presenting, sponsoring or producing the Seminar from any claim arising out of my participation in the seminar and/or my use of any information presented in the Seminar. Examples of such persons and entities include any author, speaker, sponsor or producer of this Seminar. Regardless of any fee paid for attendance at the seminar, I understand that I would not have been permitted to attend the Seminar unless I demonstrate acquiescence to the conditions of this agreement by signing this agreement.
